Eleanor has a mystery to solve. Her beloved grandfather is hiding a secret, but where? Will she find it the folds of his black coat? Tucked in his wiry gray beard? Or does it lie behind the sparkle in his eyes? Join curious Eleanor as she is transported into the stories of beloved author Herman Melville.

Jana Laiz is the first and current writer-in-residence at Herman Melville's beloved Berkshire, Massachusetts home, Arrowhead. She has a Master's degree in Education and has taught almost every grade level from kindergarten to University.
